EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

"Time is a companion that goes with us on a journey. It reminds us to cherish each moment, because it will never come again. What we leave behind is not as important as how we have lived."

Four years ago, as a class we took the first steps towards a new adventure. Crossing the threshold for the first time and going into freshman year, our ultimate goal of graduation seemed far in the horizon. It was in those years that we made the choices that would shape us into the people we are today. From favorite activities or sports to unforgettable times with friends, all of our journeys have been different and special. Many of us have crossed paths with teachers, friends, and mentors who have guided and inspired us during the journey. Some of our roads have not been easy but the lessons we have learned from these difficulties are important. Now, as we arrive at the end, there is another horizon before us and using the lessons we have learned these last four years we are ready to face it. As our paths will now diverge, it is important to remember where we started. Our memories will earn a new importance to us, as reminders we may carry on with us.

The Class of 2004 can be described as a class of individuals. Each of us holds a unique aspect that helps define our class. We all started off on the same road together in the beginning, but once let loose, we chose different paths and pursued our dreams. But we also have come together in times of happiness and heartache. Just as those few steps started our long journey through high school, a few more will carry us to the end. Every step of the way, no matter how small, holds some significance in our journey. Now our steps will take us onto new, exciting roads to college or other destinations and who knows where those will lead? The successful students of the Class of 2004 will be remembered someday, perhaps, as famous Broadway actors or producers, brilliant scientists, inspirational political figures, talented athletes, or inspiring teachers for a new generation. In years to come, hopefully, at some point, the road will lead us back to our high school friends and cherished memories.

STONEHAM HIGH SCHOOL

CLASS OF 2004

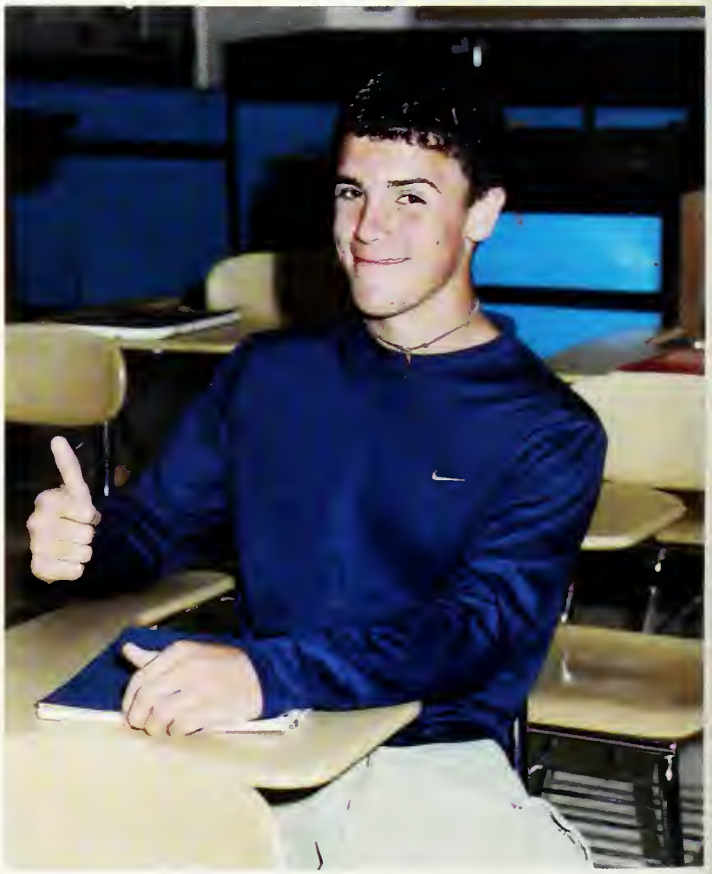
Jimmy and Kevin: fashion conscious.

Erika dreams of a bright future in contemporary issues.

Mike and Will face the bass.

Are Clare and Nicole in a Crest commercial?

Colleen and Jaqui will need that Irish luck to get through this assembly.



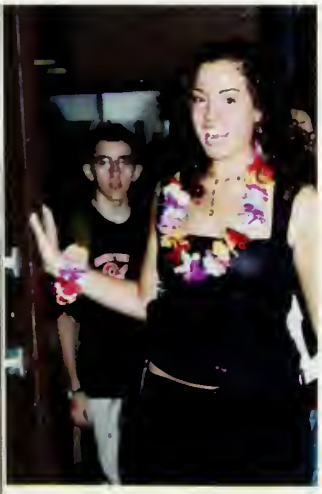
Steve gives a thumbs up to another great soccer season.

"Good company in a journey makes the way seem shorter" Izaak Walton

Colette, Caitlin, and Aidan courageously face their daunting senior year.

Don't you wish all your cells were this yummy?

Morrisa, Kelly, and Daniela have a Kodak moment.



Jill's in the spirit! Aloha!

Brian is our own Mr. Sunshine!

Steve and Mark are highly intrigued by Biology.

CLASS OF 2004

Shiva's all smiles for her first day as a senior.

Jarryd's ready for another jazzy year.

SHS's own singing pair: Katie and Christine.

Allie in Wonderland.

Coleen and Deana will always stick together.

Christina's purse takes a turn wearing the lei.

Kelly Konevich
"I'll own a beach house in Hawaii and be running my own company."

Jon Herook
"Ten years from now, I won't have changed too much. I'll still be doing immature things with Mike O'Hare and wish I was still in high school."

Mike O'Hare
"I want to be a Stoneham cop. Hopefully, I'll have a Michael, Jr. II so I can coach Pop Warner with Jon Herook and Little League with Justin Sakovitz."

Jenna Vozzella
"I'll be on The Real World and living in CA. I'll be on the verge on having my own talk show."

Alex Devlin
"I see myself as an elementary school teacher still playing music."

Class of 2004

"WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN TEN YEARS?"

Jimmy Tamburrini
"Ten years from now, I'll be working for the Stoneham D.P.W."

Jessica Marek
"Ten years from now, I'll be backpacking through Europe."

GO ALL OUT!

Paul Salvo
"I'll be living in Florida working for the U.S. Marshalls."

Danny Blyde
"I'll own a cartoon designing studio, living anywhere outside of Stoneham."

Catherine McQuade
"I want to be married and live in a beautiful house with a white picket fence. Hopefully, by then I'll have 2 or 3 children."

Matt Reopell
"I would love to own a classic rock restaurant and be a high school teacher, maybe a SHS history teacher."

Jill Duchene
"I see myself as a high school English teacher in a surrounding town, attending night school to achieve my Ph.D."

DEDICATION

MS. PAULA SAMPSON

Although our ninth grade schedules indicated " World History,"the actual class title should have been, "Life Lessons 101." Ms. Paula Sampson is the kind of teacher that you never forget, the one you tell your children about saying, " I had a teacher who taught me to love history." She was overwhelmingly patient with us, working until each of us understood all aspects of the lesson. She forced us to work hard and to think hard, and to take responsibility for our work and our actions. In fact, for those students that did not have Ms. Sampson, the one lesson that you can learn now, and probably the most important one that she taught us is, "Just own it!" This includes your mistakes as well as your successes. She was the one who guided us on the right path and, once in a while, let us take a good fall to be sure we knew what our journey was all about.

Ms. Paula Sampson could not have predicted her journey would lead her to Stoneham, or to teaching or to leading the Social Studies department. She never wanted to teach, never intended to stay in teaching once she started and never expected to take on administrative work, leaving the classroom for a good portion of each day. In fact, she is still not sure what she wants to be when she grows up! Sometimes, the journey just takes you where you are supposed to go.

Ms. Sampson once told us, " When you learn from an expert, someone you admire, you often hear their voice in your head, making corrections and giving instructions as you work." She had a history teacher like this and only recently has that voice been silenced and replaced with her own. Many of us will hear Ms. Sampson's voice in our heads for a very long time.

The feelings of appreciation go both ways. Ms. Sampson feels that she "has learned more from this class than you could possibly have learned from me." Ms. Paula Sampson made the loop with many of us from grade nine to ten, seeing us at our best and at our worst, and has taught some of us for four straight years.

Thank you, Ms. Sampson, for everything you have done. We would not be who we are today wihout your steady guidance. With love, from the Class of 2004.

SCHOOL DAYS

Phil tackles the first day of school.

Courtney walks the runway, no, the hallway.

Caitlin and Julia: two peas in a pod.

Ricky contemplates as Chris radiates.

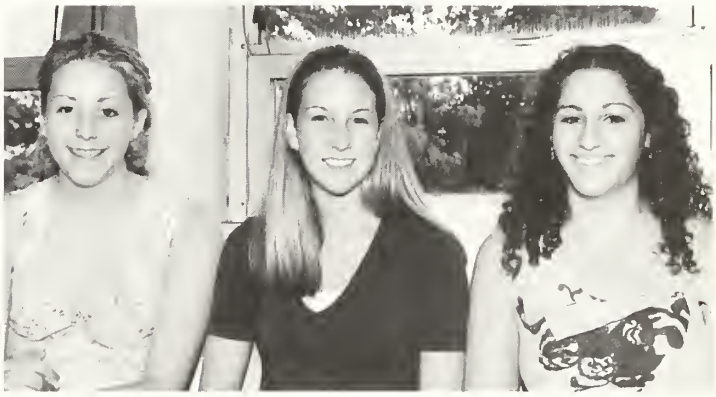
Foods is hands-down Jared's favorite class.

Daniela is simply frazzled.

"We are so often caught up in our destination that we forget to appreciate the journey, especially the goodness of the people we meet on the way." Anonymous

Rebecca: Model Behavior.

Jaclyn and Christina cheer for a new year.



Erin, Chelsea, and Alaina: SHS angels???

Kristen: "Is the day over yet??"

Nicole's up for a challenge!

Leave it to Dawnika to have a smile at an assembly.

FACULTY

Every journey may begin with a single step, but a destination is not reached without some steps in between. The teachers and faculty of Stoneham High have been our maps, our compasses. If ever there was a time when we got lost, we needed only to seek our teachers to find our way. Their guidance and patience have instilled in us a passion for knowledge and a will to succeed. We could not have asked for a more wonderful faculty to lead us through the four year journey that is high school. When looking back on our time here at Stoneham High School, our memories will not be filled with classrooms or chalkboards, but with faces and voices. Thank you for filling our memories and thank you for molding us into the people we have become in such a short time.

The SHS faculty show off their college colors as a celebration of Higher Education Week.

QUESTION TO FACULTY:

"WHEN YOU WERE IN HIGH SCHOOL, IF SOMEONE ASKED YOU "WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN TEN YEARS" WHAT WOULD YOUR ANSWER HAVE BEEN?

1. "Watergate was the focus when I was in high school. I wanted to be President of the United States."

2. "I would be teaching in a picturesque ski village in France, perhaps Chamonix, and raising a family with many children."

3. "A high school History teacher somewhere in the Middlesex League."

4. "With Prince Charming in a big house, with 2.5 children, a dog, and a picket fence, writing mysteries in my spare time and working on my tenth language."

5. "I thought I was going to be a politician or a lawyer. Thank God I went to college and realized there were more noble goals I could set for myself."

6. "Working in New York for a pattern company, travelling to fabric stores to give demonstrations and classes on new sewing techniques and products."

7. "A math teacher!"

8. "When I was in high school I planned to become a guidance counselor or social worker."

9. "By age 28, I see myself married with 2 kids, a dog, a cat, and a farmhouse. My husband and I are farming the land. We also have a few cows and two horses. I eventually want 4 kids."

10. "I suppose I would have said that I see myself living in a city and being a successful artist."

11. "I knew that I would be in front of a classroom but I certainly did not believe that it would be back here at SHS. I was going to college in Connecticut and thought that I would be staying there after graduating."

12. "An actress or working with children. I also thought I'd be married with children."

13. "I barely knew what I would be doing the next year, never mind the next decade. It was 'take it one year at a time'and, in many ways, it's still like that today."

14. "Hopefully, still alive. The Vietnam War was escalating and most American teenage males were wondering how their futures would be affected."

15. "Playing professional football or baseball."

16. "Taking an art directed course. Where it would lead would be an open road."

17. "I planned on going to Mass Art to be an art teacher."

18. "A vet! I love animals! I thought I would live on a farm."

19. "It was teaching and coaching. I knew what I wanted to do in 8th-9th grade!"

20. "Working in industry, striving for $100,000 a year."

21. "About halfway through my senior year, I decided that I couldn't see myself behind a desk in the business world. I could see myself behind a piano -- performing, teaching, and maybe composing."

22. "I thought I would be a teacher in elementary school and be married to my high school boyfriend with kids. (Sometimes it's great to be wrong!)"

23. "Honestly, my response would have been 'I don't know.'"

24 "I will own a home and have a family. As for work, I'll be working with kids but I don't know to what degree."

25. "I'll be practicing medicine, travelling and probably not married."

26. "A teacher! (Or maybe an actress)."

27. "I will be a lawyer, probably a public defender."

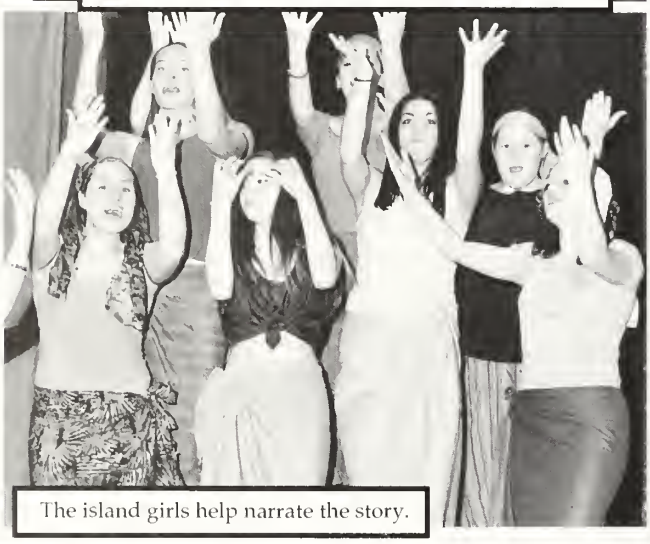
Mike, Matt, and Bryan dance to the rain gods.



The island girls help narrate the story.

What was once the stage in the Stoneham High School auditorium was suddenly transformed into a beautiful island for the production of the 2003 musical Once on This Island. The play starts off with a terrible storm and a frightened young Ti Moune (Joelle Kross) being comforted by her parents, Ton Ton Julian (Josh Gondelman) and Euralie (Courtney Boyd). The girl's parents tell her the story of a beautiful peasant girl to ease her fear of the storm. And so the story of Ti Moune begins. Ti Moune (Amanda Hoffman) is a teenage peasant girl who falls in love with a rich, young man, Daniel (Dan Pecci) when she saves his life after a car accident. The gods of the island, Asaka (Kristen Reynolds), Eruzile (Marlena Fecho), Papa Ge (Pat Hume), and Agwe (Matt Reopell), bring these two worlds together in order to show that love can overcome all obstacles, even death. In the end, the gods' point is made. They prove that Ti Moune and Daniel have a love that could endure anything. Other leads included Andrea Devereaux (Allison Lacy) and Daniel's father (Mike Testa). Aside from the acting talent in this performance there were many technical highlights as well. The crew built a simple, yet flawless set under the instruction of technical directors, Jaclyn Carleton and Mark Catalano, along with their assistants Marybeth Sheehan and Anne Fardy. Among the crew were class of 2004 members Leo Rogers, Brandon Noke, and Jon Kerrigan. The teamwork of lighting supervisor Clare Connolly and stage manager Cat Dunham created seamless and vivid lighting in scenes such as the opening thunderstorm. Farrell Boghos was one of the choreographers who created the fantastic dances for the chorus members to perform. Chorus members included seniors Blake Coleman, Shiva Marvasti, Bryan Muise, Lauren Murphy, Caitlin Sullivan, and Alison Wilson-Pierce. Rain sticks for the thunderstorm along with other exceptional props were due to the hard work of props mistresses, Mary Bridges and Beth Mata. All in all, this production ended as a success both on the stage and behind the scenes.

On November 21 and 22, the Stoneham High School auditorium's stage became a passageway to another world - the enchanted land of Narnia. The 2003 Senior Class Play, The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe, brought characters from the beloved children's book by C.S. Lewis to life. The play begins when four children stumble through a massive wardrobe and find themselves in a mystical place blanketed by a thick layer of snow. As the curtains opened, snowflakes fell upon the sparkling pines and glowing lamppost created by the crew led by Technical Director, Anne Fardy. The crew was strengthened with the creative talents of seniors Jon Kerrigan, Brandon Noke, and Leo Rogers. Of course, the majestic forest could not be complete without the technical expertise of Clare Connolly, master lighting designer, who breathed life into the castles and scenery with her art. Now that the stage was set, the audience met the intimidating Fenris Ulf (Bryan Muise), who struck terror into the hearts of children, and the lovable Faun, Tumnus (Marc Picariello). The audience cringed in the presence of the White Witch (Farrell Boghos) while she seduced young Edmund (Mark Trant) with the ever-popular Turkish Delight candy. But, with the help of the Great Lion, Aslan (Dan Pecci), the gentle Lucy (Allie Landers), the valiant Peter (Simon Jay), and the motherly Susan (Katia DeStefano), good would triumph over evil. Much assistance came from the brave forest animals who sported impressive masks created by Mary Bridges, Beth Mata, and Val Turcotte. Of course, none of the magic could take place without the fine directorial skills of Cat Dunham and Alison Wilson-Pierce. In the end, perhaps an overheard remark from a grinning fifth-grader during the children's show would best summarize the success of the play: "That was the best-est show I ever saw!"

The Winter Concert 2003 showcased the wonderful talent and skill that Stoneham High School music breeds. The audience was immersed into a musical wonderland featuring the Spartan Band, Chamber Chorus, Jazz Ensemble, and Spartan Chorale. First to play was the Spartan Band. Under the direction of their glorious leader, Mr. Grammar, the group thrilled the crowd with a lively piece called Majestia. Drawing on their experience last year while at Disney World, they delighted the younger audience with highlights from Aladdin. Foreshadowing the holiday season, the band set the mood with A Scottish Carol. Next, the group played music from the popular musical West Side Story. In an upbeat and high-octane finish, senior drum-major Aidan Kelley conducted Gonna Fly Now from Rocky, a portion of the band's fall field show. Soloists during the performance included Chris Sacco, Chris Coccoluto, Shelly Alminas, Alex Devlin, Rebecca Warren and Simon Jay.

Following the band, the Chamber Chorus delighted the audience with a series of songs which turned all minds to the upcoming holidays. Led by Mr. Lague, the Chamber Chorus sang Stopping by Woods On a Snowy Evening, to set the mood, followed by My Heart's in the Highlands. The next piece, Balulalow, from A Ceremony of Carols, featured soloist Emily DiPietro. Next, senior soloist Alison Wilson-Pierce enchanted the crowd with Remember Me This Way. The final selection, Let it Snow, Let it Snow, Let it Snow! got the crowd ready for the winter months.

The Jazz Ensemble followed. Under the direction of Mr. Grammar, the new look of the Jazz Ensemble featured a small, potent horn section The Novice/Intermediate Group soothed the audience with 5th Avenue Flat and the famous Watermelon Man. The Advanced Group filled the auditorium with a cool mood of classic jazz with Milestones and Afro Blue. Every piece played by the Jazz Ensemble featured numerous improvisational solos which showcased the individual talents of the ensemble's members.

Closing the concert was the Spartan Chorale who displayed their budding talents and consistent magical music. Led by Mr. Lague, the group first performed Come to the Music and The Nightingale to the utmost delight of the audience. The voices of the singers soared through the room and touched everyone listening. Next, the chorus sang a challenging and beautiful medley from The Secret Garden. The piece featured soloists Alycia Sacco, senior Matt Reopell, and Bryan Miner. The final selection, Tuxedo Junction, featured soloist Alison Wilson-Pierce and left all attending uplifted and charged with musical bliss.

Stoneham High School is fortunate to have such a remarkable group of students to represent our high school in the National Honor Society. Each student's membership in the Society represents more than an achivement of a certain grade point average or hours of community service. More so, these memberships reflect a common drive for excellence and perseverence in the areas of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Faced with a difficult task, the faculty selected a group of students that excelled in these areas to be inducted on Feburary 9th. The evening was made possible under the supervision of Mrs. Cargill and Ms. Willor, the National Honor Society advisors who also helped organize the annual car wash and Town Day booth. The ceremony included explanations of the four areas represented in the National Honor Society constitution from the officers, Clare Connolly, Nicole Falzone, Caitlin Sullivan and Jaquilyn Norton. An inspirational speech was presented by the honorary speaker, Mr. Mucica; a much-deserved plaque of recognition awarded to Dr. Ryan; and, under the direction of Mr. Lague, the Spartan Chorale charmed the audience with the Star Spangle Banner and Come to the Music. The new inductees then recited the National Honor Society Pledge to confirm their positions. The ceremony concluded with a remarkable 40 juniors and 2 seniors who joined the Society already consisting of 39 students. Stoneham High School currently and proundly represents the National Honor Society with 81 students.

During February and March, the Stoneham High School drama club participated in the 73rd Annual Massachusetts High School Drama Festival. The competition piece, The Comedy of Errors, by Shakespeare was a challenging play, but turned out to be a big hit. Under the talented direction of Ms. Danielle Catalano, the drama club advanced from the preliminary round to the state semi-finals and, ultimately, to the state finals.

The Comedy of Errors portrays two sets of twins separated at birth and the trouble that ensues when they all wind up in the same town. This play was so unique because both main characters had to play two parts, two very distinct sets of twins. Filling these roles was one seasoned drama veteran and one relative newcomer to the stage. Though not an easy task, both actors - senior Dan Pecci and sophomore Marc Picariello, pulled it off with ease and stole the show. The play not only showcased the bigger roles, but also the exceptional ensemble work that sets this club apart.

In addition to the talented cast, the crew helped to make the play the great success that it turned out to be. Technical directors Anne Fardy and Jen Gay created a believable world that captured everyone's attention, while stage manager Cat Dunham made sure the show ran smoothly.

For the Stoneham High School drama club, fest was full of fun, hard work, and accomplishment. There was a wide range of students, from freshmen to seniors who all helped to make this festival a sensation. From the smallest job to the biggest role, this play could not have been put on without all the dedicated members of SHS drama, who are not only classmates and friends, but a family as well. Congratulations to both cast and crew.

The King and Queen of the 2004 Carnival Ball: Kara DeJesus and Jon Herook.

This year Carnival Ball celebrated its 75th anniversary with a pleasant surprise from the past. The first King and Queen of Carnival Ball, played by Carl LoConte and Jen Kozlowski, haunted the set. At their Carnival Ball, they were denied the opportunity to dance because the King had no rhythm. Until these Spirits learned to dance, they would not allow the present King Jon Herook and Queen Kara DeJesus and their Royal Court to dance the traditional waltz to Remember Me This Way. Mistress of Ceremonies Farrell Boghos, did her best to teach the couple to dance with a little help from each of the class acts. She was also assisted by the "Spirit of Carnival Ball Past" played by Shiva Marvasti. The Spirits were delighted by vocal performances from seniors Lauren Murphy, Meaghan Bryan, Alison Wilson-Pierce and Matt Reopell. Aidan Kelley continued with an outstanding performance of Flake. He was accompanied by Brandon Noke on the guitar and Allie Landers on percussion. The veteran peformers of Carnival Ball such as the Spartan Chorale, the Chamber Chorus, Spartan Band, Jazz Ensemble and the Dance Studio of Wakefield certainly did not disappoint the audience. The senior class boasted a comical mixture of dances from ballet to an interesting duet by Kevin Quigley and Erik Nardone. The audience was kept laughing by this act and the Faculty Act which was a humorous portrayal of American Bandstand complete with Dick Clark, played by Dr. Ryan. The success of this year's Carnival Ball is the result of the hard work by many people. Clare Connolly and Erin McCarron were the directors of Carnival Ball and they received much support from the stage crew. The stage crew was responsible for helping to build the beautiful set and for making the show run so smoothly. As always, this show would not be possible without the efforts of producer Mr. James Carino. There have been 75 years of great shows to remember. Here's to the next 75!

Captains Words

" Every truly great accomplishment is at first impossible."
Most people may think that with our 2-10-6 record this season that we did not accomplish much of anything. Our team, however, was able to overcome many obstacles and build a strong bond, which is more than any of us could have asked for. After a rather rough season last year, everyone was skeptical about starting fresh with a new coach. At first, we were all apprehensive, but as the season progressed, we all began to open up to each other and our coaches and we became much closer, both on and off the field. All of the girls pushed themselves beyond limits and gave it their all at every practice and game. The team has improved tremendously and, more importantly, we were able to gain back our confidence and enthusiasm.

We just want to congratulate the team on a great season. We are so proud of each and everyone of you. We have so many great memories together and have grown into more of a family than just a team. Thank you for everything- we couldn't have done it without you! We love you all and we will miss you so much!

GOLF

Eric Kenny prepares for the big match!

Derek Shaw, Greg Snyder, Bill Garafano, Mike Welch, Nick Burke, Jeff Corbett, Brandon Noke, Bob Mercer, Greg Burke, Patrick Houghton, Dan Killilea, Coach Seabury, Eric Kenny

Captains Words

This year was a rebuilding year for the SHS golf team. The team lost seven seniors last year, leaving a lot of spots to fill, and not many people available to fill them. Luckily, four juniors decided to come out for golf this year. If not for Nick Burke, Greg Burke, Bill Garafano, and Pat Houghton we may not have had a team. Twelve players are on the team with eight playing in every match. The one through five spots were locked up by Jeff Corbett, Bob Mercer, Brandon Noke, Nick Burke, and Greg Burke. Seven other players, Billy Garafano, Pat Houghton, Mike Welch, Greg Snyder, Eric Kenny, Derek Shaw, and Dan Killilea completed the other six through eight spots. Although the team struggled to a 3 - 10 record, it should have been much better than that; we lost a lot of close ones. With only one senior on the team, Brandon Noke (Love you Man!), the team is returning eleven players and is looking forward to a strong season next year. This year was highlighted by Jeff Corbett's 4th place finish in the Division III State Championship, shooting a 74 and losing by one stroke.

FRONT ROW: Kayla McKinnon, Rebecca Warren, Toni Vigorito, Krystal Radka, Nicole Pisani, Liz Grossheim, Amanda Kent.
SECOND ROW: Melissa Sicari, Maria Baeza, Sarah Grossheim, Leah Hoyland, Ashley Corbett, Meghan Flynn, Amanda Pearlstein, Coach Hardy

Captains Words

Even though this season wasn't as successful as we had hoped, everyone on the team contributed to making a fun atmosphere to play in. Our senior volleyball season was a memorable one in many ways. Despite our coach resigning halfway through the season, we kept our composure and played our hearts out. This season proved that you don't need to win every game to be proud and happy. We would like to thank all of the girls for helping keep our spirits up. The tears, hugs, fights, "goosie-goosie", sleepovers, pasta parties, toilet papering (with very strange objects!), and, most importantly, the love, helped the seniors have the best season possible! Shockers, we love you all! And we will never forget the fun memories we had over these four great years! R.I.P. Tachikara... Love always, Lizzy Mac (Liz), Baby Alligator (Krystle), and Special Baby N (Nicole). Shock 'em next year for us... "Learn it! Live it! Love it!"

GIRLS CROSS-COUNTRY

Janelle charges into the second loop.

Captains Words

Cross-country is one of the more natural sports around. There is a start and a finish, and you must get there in the shortest amount of time; there are no time-outs or half-times, just you, the trails, and other harriers all with the same goal, to win. Being a distance runner requires you to realize that there are many miles you must cover before your day is over. To others what we do seems pointless and inconceivable, but to us, running is a way of life; it is meaningful and addictive simultaneously. Through the many miles that we have run together, the team has not only built their perseverance and endurance, but have established multiple friendships and have ultimately become a close, tight knit team. Although running is an individual sport, knowing that your teammates must accomplish the same feat that you have to make practices and races easier to complete. A tenacious attitude is required to be a cross-country runner. The girls on the team never complain or give up, instead they persevere through the inclement weather, speed workouts, and long runs. Because of the attitude and talent of the team, the 2003 season has been very successful. However, none of this would have been possible without a coach like Coach Norton. From his running experience he has given us insight and support in every race and practice but in our mindset also, he lets us know that what we do is different from other sports. I know that the team has a lot of talent and will continue on a successful path throughout the upcoming seasons.
Good luck next year girls, I'll miss you!

Captains Words

Cross-country is a sport that requires strength, determination, and a positive outlook. That is exactly what the boy's team needed this year after losing seven top guys from last year. That is certainly what was brought to the course of this fall season. Coach Riley and the team's hopes were especially lifted when eleven freshmen showed up for the first day of practice. They definitely strengthened our team throughout the season, with some placing in the top five in regular season races like Jimmy Griffin, Rob Stockbridge, and Alex Webb. Alex Webb and Jason Buckley also qualified for the State Coaches meet at Franklin Park. Along with the dominant freshmen group, other new runners joined the team: Kyle Frederick, Chris Coccoluto, Louis Griffin, and Rob Duffy. Rob Duffy was an excellent asset to the team, finishing first for Stoneham in half of the meets and was a Middlesex League All-Star at the League meet. All of these new faces helped the team finish a winning season with a record of 5-4. This record was not easy to attain with such a new and young team, but we managed to come through with wins against Wakefield, Belmont, Burlington, Watertown, and especially a big win against Reading, which has always been a challenge for Stoneham. These meets were led by these strong, returning athletes: Captain Erik Nardone, Billy Scullin, Randy Fixman, Brendan Mahoney, and Matt Wantman. This season was great for the Stoneham boy's cross-country team because everyone always had a positive attitude and we came through with a victorious record.

This was definitely a rebuilding season for the team and it has a bright future ahead of them with Coach Riley.

Captains Words

The fall cheerleading squad of 2003 accomplished so much this year. Every year we believe a positive message has been learned. This year teamwork and respect were definitely the top two. The girls learned to work well as a team and we had fun in the process which is what matters the most. Our team lost a handful of seniors from last year, but we gained so many strong and determined new assets to our team. We are so proud of all of the diligent work each person put forth. Each girl added something unique, and it would not have been the same without any of you. It was our first year hiring a choreographer to help us with our routine, and we felt it paid off. We learned so much and performed awesome at the Middlesex League Cheerleading Competition. We may not have come in first, but we felt as if our routine was a definite personal best for Stoneham High School Cheerleaders. We also made the best of the games no matter how cold it was and we always left them with a smile on our faces. We were very proud of the football and soccer boys this year. The football team worked so hard and they helped us out so much at the pep rally. We had such a blast and we thank you so much for your support. It was also a pleasure being able to cheer for the soccer boys in the tournament this year. They accomplished so much and it was great to be able to share the experience of reaching a goal with them. Overall, it all came down to the good times and new experiences we had as a team. No matter what team struggles we had, they were always worked out and we continued to stay a close, fun-loving group of girls in the end. We will miss you and we wish you many more rewarding seasons to come!

What a season! It is always tough to follow a championship season but the team stepped up to the challenge. We finished off the regular season with a 16-1-1 record, the best record in Stoneham High history. The most amazing part about that record was that we only had eight goals against. We won the Middlesex League for the second year in a row and headed into the tournament as the number one seed. We cut through our tournament opponents decisively and flew to the North Section Championship where we won in convincing fashion against Wayland. At the EMass Championship at Nickerson Field at B.U., with the full support of the town and student body, we shut out Norwell to head to our second straight state title game. We ended up losing to Grafton in that game, but held our heads high as we exited the stadium with an unbelievable season and an unbelievable record of 21-2-1.

The team was led by its three senior captains: Chris Moran, Steve Salerno, and Kevin Quigley. Each took control of his respective part of the field: forwards, defense and midfield. The offensive attack was led by captain and All-Star Chris Moran, second team All-Star sophomore Mark DeSantis, senior Rich Pacini, senior Rafael Barbieri, sophomore Phil Symons, and freshman Derek Bambery. The midfield was held strong by outside mids captain Kevin Quigley, senior Steve Rosenthal, juniors Andrew Leahy, Domenic Previte, Matt Fitzpatrick, David Goodwin and sophomore Chris Chirichiello. The center mids that controlled the game were All New England junior Mike DeSantis, and All-Star junior Steve Mahoney. Our brick wall of defense was led by EMass All-Star, captain, sweeper Steve Salerno, senior stopper Billy Gardner, senior Jason Feldman, and juniors Bobby Sargent, Brian DeVirgilio, Kevin McMillan and Tommy Pappa. Our last line of defense and best goalie in the league was junior All-Star Joe Staub, and back up John Yerxa.

What made our season so successful was not only the talent but also how the team interacted. We cemented friendships that will last a lifetime.

Captains Words

This past season has most definitely been one to remember. Starting off with a 5-0 win over Melrose in our first night game on our home field proved that all the hard work during the off-season was worthwhile. Even though we hit some bumps along the way, we were proud to be part of a team that truly never gave up. Tying Winchester against all odds earned us the one point that ultimately led to post season play. Ending the regular season with an essential 3-0-2 run and our final 8 points, we entered the tournament with our heads held high. Once again not the typical number 15 seed, we played with a fearless attitude and fought until the very last whistle against highly regarded Swampscott. Although we didn't advance, the 100 percent effort given was all that we could ever have asked for.

This year, as Seniors, we realized more than ever that there is more to a team than just what is seen on the field. With many memories, beginning with pasta parties and toilet papering Ms. Chapman's house with the boys, to our ding-dong ditch signs, we made our last year fun. We would never have accomplished what we did without the support of the parents, fans, and the boys team. The good luck breakfast that the boys held for us before the last Reading game and their constant encouragement drove us to reach our goals. Even though we fought with them at practice throughout the entire season over soccer balls, we couldn't be more proud to share a field with such a talented and thoughtful group of boys.

It's true that all good things must come to an end, and this is one of them. For nine Seniors, who have played together since the beginning, it's hard to believe that we will not be stepping on the field as a team again. We wish you girls the best of luck next season and we want you to know how proud we are of you. When next fall rolls around and we're not there, "Remember why you play...play for her."

When we look back on the 2003 season, we may not spot the most winning team in Stoneham history. However, we will reminisce about the team of heart, the team that had soul. And, most of all, the team that never quit. We will remember the team that loved to play football, and when times were tough, rose to the occasion. You won't recall the fumble you saw, and probably not the times our defense prevailed 4th and short. You'll remember watching Stoneham's finest young men, pouring their hearts onto the field in a spectacle of soul and emotion every single weekend. These are the guys who marveled under the lights and made things clear with a sting on the opponent followed by an array of high-fives. This is the season we took by the horns. These are the memories we will have forever and this is our team. The team that never did fall short, but, in fact, rose to the top.

This year was a growing year for the Stoneham swim team. It was also a transition year as we had new coaches leading us. It was our first year as a varsity sport for Stoneham. We got off to a rocky start, but in the end we became a very close group of girls. Most members were unfamiliar with the whole idea of competitive swimming, so it was a building year focusing on stroke mechanics for the newer swimmers. Our one win this season does not accurately portray the hard work and grueling practices the girls endured. Spending long nights at the pool were not ideal but everyone managed. Stoneham's one diver, Sam Molle, worked very hard this season and was the only member of our team to qualify for states. Not many people realize the mindset of a swimmer during a race. Of course, you want to beat the swimmer on the opposing team, but your main focus is beating the clock (your best time). Breaking personal best times, bonding and having fun is just what the Stoneham High girls swim team did this year.

Stoneham boys track continued its winning tradition with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. After the many years of doing indoor track, we truly appreciate what it means to train hard towards accomplishing a common goal. Everyday would require hard work, dedication, and the will to win. We all "paid the price to win" over the years, to contribute to such a successful program. There is no way to total up the amount of memories that took place whether it was the sweat and tears shed through our efforts on the track, or the times we laughed and shouted during the season. We will miss the brotherhood of the sport and all those who were a part of it. We shall always remember Coach Riley yelling out our times as we circled the track. We also shall remember Coach Moose and Coach Melkonian giving pointers and helpful hints to the throwers. But the thing we shall remember the most is each other and the fun times we had. It is by no accident that we have been shaped into the people we are today because of the morals and virtues that were instilled in us by track.

Captains Words

The SHS girls track team did not have an impressive season on paper with a record of 2-7. However, we had 30 girls on the team when a majority of our competitors were double in size. With the 30 girls we battled setbacks such as injuries, sicknesses, and our freshmen missing their races. Each teammate trained hard at practice and gave it all she had on race day. We became a family over the winter with pasta parties, all you can eat pizza outings, and a sleepover. We filed onto the track with our intimidating royal blue sweatshirts, cheering each other on with as much Spartan spirit that we had in us. Many of our girls qualified and went to states. Our 4x200 team placed 5th at states and moved on at All-States for the first time in years. Goals were set, personal records were broken, dreams were achieved and all the while we managed to still hold our heads high and have as much fun as we possibly could. From dance parties, to story time with Mr. Norton, and concluding with the traditional I Will Survive singalong entering the SHS driveway, each bus ride home was a special memory in itself. This surely was a season that will not be forgotten.

The 2003-2004 gymnastics team finished the season with a record of 134.5, which was a huge turn around for Stoneham. This year's team was led by Coach Danielle Boyd, Assistant Coach Anne-Marie McNeil and Senior Captains Becky Buttiglieri, Jill Cunningham and Stephanie Vasilchuk. Despite shin splints, bruises, rips, sprains and the flu, our team did our best to work through it all. We worked on new moves and improved our scores each meet. We love our team and each of us share a strong friendship. Also, we'd like to thank our coaches and teammates for making the past four years so much fun and unforgettable. This was a learning year, focused on gaining experience and improving as a team. We were a young, unexperienced team starting all underclassmen. Going into the season we didn't expect to win too many games returning with only two lettermen. After dropping our first five games of the season, we pulled out a close win over Winchester. This was a big confidence builder and helped us focus on the rest of the year. We ended up with five wins, beating Winchester twice, Burlington, Melrose, and Greater Lowell. It was a solid season with everyone returning next year except for one.

Our only senior was Woody Coleman, who was a solid role player coming off the bench. Woody was the personality of our team and will be missed next year.

We'll be coming back next year as a more experienced team, with hopes of making the tournament.

We couldn't have started out our season on a better note. Beating Melrose in our first game of the year is something we will never forget. During the season we were faced with many ups and downs but somehow, we overcame each obstacle. No matter what happened during a game, we were a team that never gave up. Everyone had something different that they brought to the game to make us a better team. The entire team practiced hard day in and day out, especially during Feburary vacation in preparation for the tournament game. Although we had high hopes going into the tournament, we left it all on the court in Amesbury. We did end the season with one of the best records in several years: 9-11. We had our share of tears, but it was all surpassed by our laughter. Bardah, Meaghan, and Nicole, good luck at college. To the team, good luck next year, we'll be back to watch. Have fun doing the electric slide with DJ Kevin J and never step on the court without "hollering at my m-guard." Love and Basketball, always.

In the beginning of the season, our team was both excited and anxious to show off our new talent. We knew from the start that this year's team was the best we'd ever had. Our third place victory last year left us with a mind full of ideas that we couldn't wait to try, and an eagerness to try them. We put all of our effort into achieving our goals, knowing that it would pay off, and it did. We placed second in our league competition this year, which was that much more victorious than our third place win last year.

We are a group of opinionated individuals, but ironically, it works. All too often, we agree to disagree, but we've never considered this a bad thing. Over the past four years, you girls have become our peers, our teammates, and most of all our friends. I'll never forget our first days at JAG, our sleepovers, our pasta parties, or our night at Dick's Last Resort. We've been through thick and thin together, and since day one we have grown closer and closer.

It's tough to think that our years as your teammates are over, but this doesn't mean you girls aren't still our friends. We know you'll carry this team well next year and in years to come. Good luck to all of you and thanks for all the memories.

Captains Words

The 2003-04 Hockey season was a blast! Despite an 0-3 start, we turned on the mechanism and finished the season with an 8-8-5 record. We had four league all-stars: Steve Rosenthal, Chris Moran, Mike Muolo, and Kevin McCarthy. However, everybody was an all-star in our minds. This year, our team was based around a big first line who combined for fifty points, and a heavy hitting defenseman who set the tone with his devastating hits. We, as captains, provided a strong combination of leadership and mentorship for a fairly young team. Next year looks promising since the team is only losing three seniors.

We made the tournament despite getting bounced first round by heavily favored Austin Prep. It was great to see all the Stoneham "superfans" get rowdy for the games. They gave us momentum in our hearts that we displayed on the ice.

Some people ask us, "Hey guys, you have a young team. Why are you trying so hard to make the tourney?" And we both smile at each other and don't say a word because they do not understand that it is about the men we play with. That's it.

SECOND ROW: J. Fields, K. Tuscano, J. DiCicco, C. Coppola, J. Day, E. Grossheim, N. Pisani, L. D'Ambrosio, Coach Hardy

Captains Words

This year has been a memorable one for the girls' hockey team. This year we officially became a Junior Varsity team after 2 years of being a club sport. We have also improved dramatically over the last few years between our stick handling and skating to form a skilled team. Even though we had to give up our Friday and Saturday nights, and get up early for before school practices, it was well worth the improvement that we made over the season. The fun, outgoing, silly atmosphere contributed to a fun season with all of the girls. Through everything we maintained a positive attitude and our hardworking skills. We (the seniors) will miss you guys next year with all the fun moments and events that we had. Thanks for a great season ladies and good luck with the future of Stoneham High School GIRLS' Hockey! Seniors 2004 - Liz Grossheim, Nicole Pisani and Katie Tuscano...We love you girls!

The Powder Puff girls are ready for action.

These girls huddle in school before the big game.

Can you tell Jessica wants the ball?

Nicole's unstoppable!

Kara runs for a touchdown to defend the seniors' title.

Memories were made on and off the field.

The girls take a time out.

The juniors can run, but they can't hide.

MEMORIES

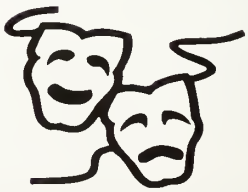
FLASHBACK

ADITI SINHA

High school is a time when people enjoy both the company of their friends and the memories they share. When I think of high school a fond memory of mine is the band trip to Florida; we were invited to play at Epcot in Disneyworld. Our first day was spent roaming around the crowded Magic Kingdom. During our second day the band and chorus performed at Epcot. We supported each other and then enjoyed the rest of the day off, exploring and waiting in long lines. The next day, we went to the Animal Kingdom and then went shopping at Downtown Disney. Our final day in Florida was spent at Typhoon Lagoon. We stayed there for four hours because our flight was at 2:30. Coming home was probably the hardest thing to do because of the bonding and fun that we had all shared. When we came home, it was snowing! We had to adjust from wearing shorts and t-shirts to wearing sweaters and jackets. Many people from the trip were hoping that our flight home would be delayed (or cancelled!) because of the snow. Unfortunately, it was just some wishful thinking.

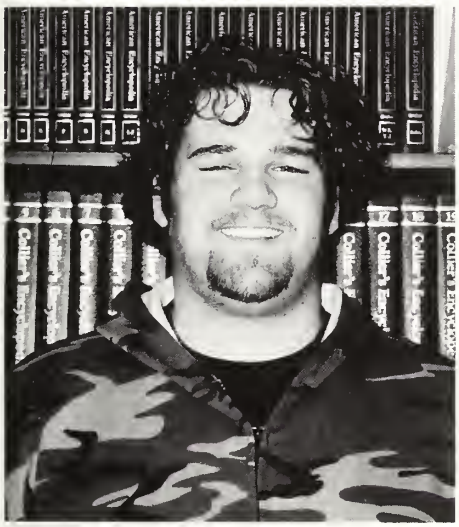
My high school years have been full of moments that I will carry on and cherish. Most have been shared with friends and family members; during activities and trips. Drama has always been an activity that I enjoy and value. It is the one place where people can go, and just be themselves. With the bad and the good, somehow you always find yourself drawn to it. You know that no matter what happens, even if you don't get the part of your dreams, you can't leave. It's filled with wonderful students, that you feel lucky to have known; I even met one of my best friends at Drama. I haven't been lucky enough to do every play, and each time I don't, I feel this great sadness for everything I've missed out on, and the people I didn't get to meet. At the end of the year, on the day of the last play, the cast and crew come together for our traditional wish circle, where we say our goodbyes, primarily to the seniors. No wish circle has affected me as much as last year's. As we were going around, it occurred to me that the next year I would be the senior, having all these talented kids saying goodbye to me. And it scared me. It was the one moment where I realized my future was rushing towards me and I couldn't stop it. Sitting there, I looked around at all the seniors, and hoped that I could be as good as they were. I felt sad that we were losing such a great group, and I hoped that my class could carry on and further their legacy. It was my hope that I would have as much impact and influence on at least one person, like so many had had upon me. And, hopefully, I have. When I go off to college I will miss that safe zone. I'll miss the random chats and stories shared while sitting on the floor, the inside jokes, traditions, and pranks.

LAUREN MURPHY



During the past four years at SHS, many of my favorite moments have occurred during the Tennis season. Like most of the teams we play, Reading expected to come to Stoneham and completely destroy us. Last year, however, was different. Kelly and I played as second doubles for the first time, and we were so excited to play together we didn't really think about winning. Coach Carino definitely doubted our ability to focus on the game, let alone win. But Kel and I proved him and Reading wrong. We defeated Reading in two straight sets, leaving the Reading girls extremely mad. Their coach couldn't believe that Stoneham had actually won a match; she even tried to tell Carino that we cheated! At our next meet, we finally put Reading in their place when Chelsea and I defeated them again! Reading was even more mad this time. We couldn't wait to play (beat) them this year!

ERIN MCCARRAN



BRIAN O'DONNELL

I'll never forget our sophomore field trip to Deer Island and Spot Pond. I had gotten into trouble for swimming in the pond when I was supposed to be getting my water samples. Giving into peer pressure, I walked into the water up to my knees with my pants rolled up. Then, taking off my shirt and throwing it onto the shore, I yelled "Oops, I fell" and dove into the water and started swimming. The frigid April water didn't keep me in too long. When I came out of the water, everyone, except Ms. Ianelli, thought it was hilarious. Ms. Ianelli was extremely mad at me because of my behavior. I don't give into peer pressure easily anymore as a result. In fact, I'm a peer leader who teaches kids not to give into peer pressure from friends. Even years later, a lot of people still bring up my pond adventure especially when I'm around Ms. Ianelli. I don't think anyone will ever forget it; it's a favorite memory of many people. P.S. Sorry, Ms. Ianelli.

caught in the act

JULIA MCQUADE

I have had many great experiences at SHS but there is one that sticks out in my mind: having the opportunity to perform in Carnival Ball. My sister suggested it to my mother at one of my karate exams sophomore year, and I would like to thank her for making me show a rare talent, which has resulted in being one of the most anticipated acts of Carnival Ball. At the end of first semester, I am always bombarded with, "Hey Julia, are you going to do Carnival Ball this year?" which is such a great feeling because I have a lot of fun performing. It's such an adrenaline rush to be on stage and to hear everyone go crazy because of some of the different moves. Performing in Carnival Ball has also been rewarding in the sense that I made many new friends. People have come up to me wondering how I did that and if I could teach them something. It has contributed to the person I am today, so I can honestly say that performing in Carnival Ball was my greatest memory of SHS.

From Tehran to Boston

Dear Daughter;

I remember that evening after your first day of school on September 6, 2000. On that particular evening, we had decided to study English together when you began to sob and lean on my shoulder. You said, "Baba, I couldn't understand any of the teachers or students and I can't talk to anyone at school, how am I going to survive this school year?" It has been three years now and everything has changed. Now, I cry and sob as you have been elected the "MOST TALKATIVE" in school!!! I am truly proud of how far you have come since that day in 2000 and what you have accomplished during that time.
I would like to take this opportunity to thank the wonderful teachers and school administrators, especially Ms. Brennan and Mr. Campagna. Wish you much success.

Love, Baba

Julia and Catherine McQuade

Dear Julia and Catherine,

You have enriched our lives. Thank you. Whatever you choose to do, do it with all of your heart. Listen, the answers are within you. Remember how much you are loved and don't forget to laugh! Congratulations! You are our most treasured blessings.

Love, Mom and Dad
